

BUILDING-LOAN FOLK RECEIVED BY WILSON

Association Elects Officers and Names San Francisco for Next Meeting Place.

With the election of officers, during which Charles Eugene Clark, of Covington, Ky., was named as president, the United States of Local Building and Loan Associations concluded its twenty-second annual convention at the Raleigh hotel this afternoon, and a short time later were received by President Wilson at the White House.

San Francisco was named as the place for holding the 1915 convention, the exact date to be fixed by the executive committee. The new officers, in addition to President Clark, are Herbert W. McKim, of Quincy, Mass., first vice president; George F. Gilmore, of Omaha, Neb., second vice president; L. L. Rankin, of Columbus, Ohio, third vice president; Joseph K. Gamble, of Philadelphia, was re-elected treasurer for the twenty-third consecutive term, and H. F. Sellars, of Cincinnati, Ohio, was re-elected secretary.

The principal address of the closing day of the convention was that of Henry S. Roosevelt, of Cincinnati, on the governmental attitude toward building and loan associations throughout the United States. He took the position that such associations should have a "militant organization" to combat unjust legislation. He complained of the direct taxation upon building associations in many States and in the District of Columbia as a penalty against the home-owning instinct, and the desire to be provided, when exercised through co-operation which is not a profit-seeking method.

A resolution was passed recommending that Congress in framing a law to land mortgage credits evolve some scheme to embrace the building and loan associations as they now stand, thus getting the benefit of their $1,000,000 capital and their organization and experience.

Boalt's Deportation Is Suspended for 24 Hours

The order of deportation from Vera Cruz of Correspondent Fred L. Boalt was suspended twenty-four hours by the direct action upon building associations in many States and in the District of Columbia as a penalty against the home-owning instinct, and the desire to be provided, when exercised through co-operation which is not a profit-seeking method.

A resolution was passed recommending that Congress in framing a law to land mortgage credits evolve some scheme to embrace the building and loan associations as they now stand, thus getting the benefit of their $1,000,000 capital and their organization and experience.

Veiled Prophets Spend Day at Chesapeake Beach

Today is a day of "gamboling" at Chesapeake Beach. Hundreds of excursionists are at the resort and hundreds more are going to the resort to attend the "grand strotto gambol" of Kallipolis Grotto, No. 16, Mystic Order of Veiled Prophets of the Enchanted Realm. One of the features of the day will be the ebocation by the Kallipolis Grotto band, on the boardwalk. Monarch Pullman has arranged for free ox-cart rides for all, while French families have ordered a rest room at the Hotel Bellevue for the women and children. Committees in charge are as follows: Tickets, A. C. Merritt, chairman; E. S. Schmidt, W. E. Fookes, O. A. C. Oehmke, and A. B. Rogers; printing, George Emmott, chairman; transportation, J. C. Hesterman, P. Boss, chairman; J. S. Sedgwick is general chairman.

$15,000 Loss Is Caused By Fire in Feed Store

Damage estimated at $15,000 was caused by fire early today to the feed store of Theodore Michael, 25 New York avenue northeast. Insurance partially covered the loss.

The fire was discovered shortly before 1 o'clock. The flames spread so rapidly that it was necessary to sound three alarms to prevent the flames from reaching the adjoining buildings. Seven horses in the basement in the rear of the building, which runs through the street, were rescued by policemen Ladow and Rector, of the second precinct, assisted by members of No. 4 truck company.

Starting in the rear of the establishment, the flames soon reached the second floor, where there was a large quantity of feed stored. Practically the entire stock was ruined. The cause of the fire was not determined.

Parades Street in Bathing Suit

CHICAGO, July 28.—She didn't know there was war in Europe—this pretty little show girl of dreamy eyes and dainty figure—and she didn't know the papers were jammed full of war news and war pictures to the exclusion of nearly everything else.

She's probably crying her heart out today.

Braving arrest, she jumped from a taxicab in a daring pink bathing suit, and thus, and thus only, arrived, walked for three blocks through mobs of street shoppers, who fought for a closer look. But the papers were so full of war news that none of them mentioned her feat or printed her picture today.

MILITIA TO LEAVE FOR CAMP TOMORROW

First and Second Infantry and Signal Corps to Depart for Virginia Beach.

Arriving in Washington shortly before noon today, Brig. Gen. George H. Harries, commanding the District National Guard, went directly to guard headquarters and assumed the charge of the work of completing final details in connection with the annual encampment at Virginia Beach.

The militia, 1,500 strong, will leave Washington tomorrow night and Friday morning for Chesapeake Beach, where they will board the chartered steamer Dreamland, which will carry them to the Virginia camping ground, where they will study the art of modern warfare for ten days. The First and Second Infantry and the Signal Corps leave for Chesapeake Beach tomorrow night, and will go into camp there for the night. The remaining members of the guard will leave here early Friday morning, and will be carried by special trains to Chesapeake Beach, where they will join the main body of the guardsmen before boarding the chartered steamer.

Advance Guard Is Off.

General Harries was in conference with Lieutenant Parmerter, adjutant general, and other officers, going over with them all of the arrangements that have been made for the movement of the troops to the camp grounds, Friday.

The advance guard of officers and men, who left Washington last night to look after baggage and camp equipment, which had already been forwarded, arrived in Norfolk this morning, and immediately started the equipment to the camp site by rail. Everything at the camp will be in readiness, so far as it is possible to have it, when the men arrive Friday night.

The Times is in receipt of a dispatch from W. Easby Smith, of the Virginia Beach life-saving service, stating that reports about the dangers from a heavy northeast storm, according to Mr. Smith.

Declares Beach Safe.

"I can safely say that Virginia Beach is the safest place on the coast," he says. "The beach is not steep, but, on the other hand, has a gradual slope, and nine days out of ten the sea is perfectly safe for children."

"I have no money interest at stake. I am sending this to The Times hoping partially to allay the fears of the parents and friends of the soldier boys. The Government authorities have made ample arrangements to safeguard all who wish to enjoy the ocean by placing life guards on the beach during bathing hours."

Mr. Smith adds that the cactus, about which a warning was sent out from militia headquarters, is the ordinary prickly pear, and the Russian thistle, which grows along the coast, he says, is absolutely harmless.

"I know this from an experience of thirty-five years on the coast, from Montana to Hatteras," he concludes.

Aeroplane Falls; 2 Dead.

NOVARA, Italy, July 28.—While carrying a pilot, Giovanni Marcello Cavignani, and a passenger named Camilletti, an aeroplane plunged from a height of 500 feet here today. Both were killed.

TRUST BILL DEBATE INTERESTING FEW

Vote on Interstate Trade Commission Measure Expected in a Short Time.

Senate debate on the interstate trade commission bill continued today. Senator Cummings spoke in favor of the bill and for his amendment to section 5, which is the "unfair competition" section.

Talk that there would be a compromise on the bill, whereby section 5 would be stricken out or emasculated so as to be practically eliminated, was denied by Senator Newlands, chairman of the Interstate Commerce Committee. The discussion ran on today with only a few Senators present. A vote is looked for in a short time.

Senator Newlands introduced an amendment to section 5, which would make the section read as follows: "That unfair competition in commerce, which is hereby declared to be unlawful, embraces every act which tends to create a contract, combination, in the form of trust or otherwise, or conspiracy, in restraint of commerce, and also every act which tends to the monopolization, or the attempted monopolization, or to the formation of a combination or conspiracy for the monopolization, of any part of commerce."

This practically defines unfair competition as something already prohibited by the Sherman law. It is not a committee amendment. Its adoption is considered doubtful.

Suffrage Council Set for August 30 at Newport

More than two-score of the most prominent women identified with the suffrage movement in America, who made up the advisory council of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage, will assemble at the home of Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont at Newport, on August 30, for the first meeting of the council.

An announcement of the date of the meeting had been sent as the result of a conference held between the suffrage campaign at Newport, and Mrs. Belmont.

The officers of the Congressional Union here are still talking today about the fright they experienced with them all of the arrangements that have been made for the movement of the troops to the camp grounds, Friday.

The advance guard of officers and men, who left Washington last night to look after baggage and camp equipment, which had already been forwarded, arrived in Norfolk this morning, and immediately started the equipment to the camp site by rail. Everything at the camp will be in readiness, so far as it is possible to have it, when the men arrive Friday night.

Forecasts Bald Women.

BERLIN, July 28.—The women of the future will be bald and will wear long whiskers, unless the feminist movement is abandoned, predicts Dr. Friedenthal, of Berlin University.

To Banish Wrinkles and Freshen Up Quickly

After a strenuous day outdoors, when winds, heat and exhaustion have combined to take away one's freshness and caused the skin to wrinkle and sag, or after a tedious or fretful day indoors, one often has urgent need for some quick rejuvenator. Maybe there's a tango party on for the evening, or some other social event. How in the world can one make herself presentable, looking as she does? It's quite easy.

Just get an ounce of powdered sassafras, a half pint of white hazel at the nearest drug store, mix the two and bathe the face in the solution for two or three minutes. Then look into your mirror and behold the wonderful transformation! Wrinkles have vanished, loose, tired muscles have been rested and "rimmed up," marks of fatigue have flown, and you look so much brighter and younger you can hardly believe it. The witch hazel and sassafras being so perfectly harmless.—Adv.

Walter Johnson Converted to Suffrage by Wife

When Walter Johnson, the famous baseball pitcher performs again in this city the Concrete Coliseum, as some of the classical writers of sports are wont to term the American League Baseball Park, bids fair to be overpowered with members of the fairer sex. The famous pitcher's popularity with Eve's daughters has grown with leaps and bounds since he left the ranks of bachelorhood, but no one ever dreamed that Cupid could make Walter a ladies' idol.

From St. Louis, this morning, however, came the following announcement: "Walter Johnson has been converted to woman suffrage."

Well, Walter is either some politician or just the most obedient little husband in the world.

"Mrs. Johnson converted me," he told the St. Louis newspapermen boastfully. "She is a Nevanadan, and has the open-mindedness of the Western people. I believe as she believes concerning suffrage."

Mrs. Johnson, according to her husband, will register in Kansas, and she will be a full-fledged voter in that State. Probably she will take the stump for Victor M. Foltz, her favorite candidate. She plans to take an active part in politics. Johnson says that Mrs. Walter understands the intricacies of the tariff better than she does an "in-shoot" or a slow "fadeaway."

B. & O. Employees Will Picnic at Harpers Ferry

Special trains will be operated on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad from this city, Baltimore, Md. City, Frederick, and other points, eastward from as far west as Pittsburgh to accommodate the Baltimore and Ohio employees who wish to attend the Jennie Smith picnic, which will take place tomorrow at Island Park, Harpers Ferry.

The affair promises to be the greatest occasion of its kind ever held. A. W. Thompson, chief operating officer of the company, with his staff will join with the rank and file to make the thirty-second annual outing eclipse all previous ones.

This will be the first time since the railroad evangelist, Miss Jennie Smith, originated the annual picnic of the company that executive officers of the company will lay aside their official duties to share with the trainmen, shompen, and others from various departments of the service their one big holiday of the year.

Navy Aviators Escape When Plane Is Wrecked

It is stated at the Navy Department today that Ensigns Jamont and Capehart, who were operating naval aeroplane A-4, which was wrecked at Hampton Roads yesterday, escaped without injury.

The accident occurred while the two aviators were trying to alight after a flight. In coming to the surface of the water the machine swerved and one plane struck the water, causing the machine to capsize, throwing the officers into the water. The A-4 is one of the Curtiss flying boats recently purchased by the Navy Department, and has been in use at Indian Head testing the new high explosive bombs.

West Virginia Politics Sizzling This Week

Politics will begin to sizzle in West Virginia this week. Tomorrow at Charleston Congressman Clyde Kelly, of Pennsylvania, will make the keynote speech at the Progressive State convention, and Friday, at Montgomery, the Republican campaign will be put in motion by a speech by Edward Carrington of Baltimore.

Carrington was formerly Bull Moose leader in Maryland, and an ardent Rooseveltian, and he has been booked by the Republican Congressional Committee for a number of speeches in West Virginia.

Senator Lee in Wreck.

Senator Blair Lee of Maryland escaped injury in an automobile accident in front of the Georgia avenue car barn last evening, when his machine was run into by the automobile of Frank R. Crovo, Jr., 901 Louisiana avenue northwest. Senator Lee, who was driving his own machine, was obliged to stop suddenly to avoid running down a conductor who was crossing the street. Crovo's machine crashed into the rear end of the Senator's, and while both cars were damaged no one was hurt.

Loyal Friends' Smoker.

Fifty members of the Order of Loyal Friends, Circle No. 1, of the District, attended a smoker in G. A. R. hall last night. Following a short business meeting, there was an entertaining musical and speech-making program, after which a buffet luncheon was served. A. N. Roberts, vice president, was toastmaster, and speeches were made by the following: H. M. Smith, Lee Macabee, Leonard F. Fugert, P. E. Miller, and John Flaster.

ELEVATOR A TRAP FOR HOTEL CLERK

Young Man Accused of Ensnaring Night Manager, So He Could Rifle Cash Drawer.

Accused of trapping the night clerk of a hotel in Ninth street northwest, in the elevator between the first and second floors, with the alleged intention of rifling the safe and cash drawer, Clarence H. Hildreth, twenty-four, giving his address as 517 Eleventh street northwest, is locked up at No. 1 police station.

Hildreth was arrested by Policeman Clay. Tied around the young man's neck when the policeman arrived was a towel which Charles T. Shaffer, the night clerk, says Hildreth had pulled up over his face to conceal his features. The elevator boy had been sent on an errand, and when the bell rang Shaffer got in the lift and started for the first floor. Half way down the current was cut off and the elevator stopped suddenly. Shaffer heard some one coming downstairs, and crawled up the side of the cage so he could look over the top of Hildreth, he says, was just going around the counter where the money was kept. Shaffer called to him, and Hildreth, he says, ran to the washroom, got the towel, and tied it over his face.

Shaffer's cries for help were heard by Policeman Clay, who happened to be passing the hotel at the time. When the policeman arrived Shaffer was just crawling out of the top of the cage, and Hildreth was standing by chiding him about the predicament he was in.

At the station house Hildreth told Captain Peck he had been visiting two friends who live in the hotel. He denied he had any intention of taking money from the safe and cash drawer. He also denied turning off the electric current on the top of the tower over his face, he said he did that to "have some fun" with Shaffer, who was a new man at the hotel.

Cool Days Put Flies at Your Mercy; Kill Them

Fly casualties should be recorded in large numbers during the cool days now enjoyed in Washington. The insects are less active during the cool days than on hot, and every minute of the moderate weather should be taken advantage of in the war against the fly.

The death of one fly means a decrease of 1,000,000 in the year's crop. If every person in Washington would allot the killing of ten flies as his summer task, the Capital would soon be on the road to becoming a flyless city.

It is the desire of the District Health Department and the allied organizations that uphold healthfulness that Washington becomes more and more advanced in the ranks of clean cities. They realize that flies thrive in dirt, refuse and foul matter and that the fly evil, wherever they are permitted to remain for any time. Every fly killed brings this city nearer the much sought goal of sanitary excellence.

The guardians of the health of Washington are powerless to combat the fly evil unaided by every citizen. The way to assist is to kill every fly wherever seen. A death in time saves not nine, but nine million.

Nine million flies are sufficient to wipe out all the residents of Washington. Save yourself by killing the fly today.

1,200 Policemen and Families Upon Outing

Officers of the Association of Park Policemen of the District are enthusiastic today over the success of their outing at Chesapeake Beach yesterday for the benefit of the sick fund of the association.

More than 1,200 policemen, their families, and friends gathered early at the resort and spent the day bathing, crabbing, fishing, and dancing. A feature of the outing was the athletic meet. There was a potato race, running races, a three-legged race, a barrel race, and a pie-eating contest, which caused great hilarity. J. H. Mitchell and James Freeland had charge of the excursion. On the amusement committee were Edward Talbot, Charles Blush, and William Hennessey.
